City Refuses 30-Day Fire Deal Extension

City commissioners Monday night turned down an extension of a city-county fire-expense sharing contract, approved a budget of $408,074.92, and let bids for several city projects.

Refusal of the city to accept a 30-day extension on the contract set by Randall County commissioners Monday will leave most rural residents without fire protection when the contract expires Friday. The Canyon Fire Department will not be obligated to answer fire calls outside the city limits.

Sharing Expenses

The contract, which has been running several years, calls for the county and the city to share in fire department expenses in proportion to the number of fire calls from each.

Canyon had not had a fire loss in nine months until fire destroyed a tool shed belonging to Jess Barker March 21.

The county, meanwhile, has had several fire losses, including one fatality, and aid from Canyon volunteer firemen had kept losses in several fires at a minimum.

Johnson Opposed Contract

In their meeting Monday, county commissioners had renewed the contract with the Canyon Fire Department, but for only 30 days. C. Y. Johnson, precinct 4 commissioner, led opposition to a longer contract, primarily because of the high cost to the county. Johnson said he wanted the contract studied so it could be made consistent with similar contracts the county has with Amarillo and Happy.

The contract was presented the commissioners Monday afternoon by Mayor Charles Donnell. He asked that the contract be renewed to March 31, 1961.

No One Appeared

No one appeared at the public hearing on the proposed city budget, which called for an increase of more than $30,000 in expenditures in the 1960-61 fiscal year. It was approved.

About one-half of the $408,074.92 budget will be spent to operate the city. Some $161,168 will be spent by the water and sewer department, while another $44,622 will go into the interest and sinking fund to pay off bonds and warrants of the city. This leaves $202,284.25 for general operation funds.

Contracts Let

Chicago Iron and Bridge Company was awarded the contract for repairing the small water tower at the water plant. Their bid was $3,245.

A bid of $1,969.50 earned Lewis Dodson Engineering Company the contract for a new boiler at the city swimming pool. Prossor and Lowery, on a bid of $1,242, received the contract for repairing the floor of the swimming pool.

The city engineers, McMorries and Associates, were instructed to draw up estimates for repairs to city streets.

Committee Considers Clean-Up Campaign

The Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up committee of the Chamber of Commerce met for a noon luncheon in the West Texas State College cafeteria Thursday to discuss preliminary plans for this year's campaign.

Raymond Raillard, chairman of the committee, announced that the clean-up drive this year will be held simultaneously with that of Amarillo's drive.

Other members of the committee present were Mrs. O. W. "Bud" Parker, Mrs. A. C. Haley, Jr., Dr. J. B. Roberts, and Charles Hillier. Roland Black, C of C manager, was also present. The committee will meet later with representatives of various clubs of Canyon.

NIRA Rodeo Starts Thursday at Arena

An intercollegiate rodeo, with nine teams from the Southwest competing, will be staged here Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Performances are scheduled each night at 8, and admission will be $1.50 for adults and $1 for students.

Men's events include bull riding, bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, calf roping, ribbon roping, and steer wrestling. Girls' events are barrel racing and goat tieing.

Awards of Buckles, Trophy

Silver belt buckles will be awarded to the best all-around cowboy and cowgirl of each event, and a trophy will go to the best all-around team entered.

West Texas State's Rodeo Queen, Jeanie Downs of Amarillo, will be presented at the opening performance Thursday night. Her attendants are Mrs. Mike Settles of Tulia and Erma Bronniman of Adrian.

The rodeo is a district contest of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association, and all colleges in the Southwest district are allowed teams of eight members and two alternates.

Nine Colleges Entered

Already entered are teams from the University of New Mexico, New Mexico State University, Oklahoma State University, Texas Tech, Hardin-Simmons University, Sul Ross State College, South Plains Junior College, Lubbock Christian College, and West Texas State.

The WT Rodeo Club also will sponsor a rodeo dance following each performance of the rodeo at The Spot, Fourth Avenue at 23rd Street.

The public is invited to the dance, which will feature a local band. Admission is $1 per person.

Members of the Randall County Sheriff's Posse practice the grand march, which they will perform at the rodeo at the new T-Anchor Rodeo Arena this weekend. Shown here on the lead horse is Rex Loftis, a West Texas State College student. The arena, with the chutes in the background, was built by the WT Rodeo Club, the Sheriff's Posse, and the Canyon Junior Chamber of Commerce. The rodeo will be held Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights beginning at 7:30.

Door Open Until April 7 for Persons Seeking Post of Randall County Judge

Appointment Due By Commissioners

Although prospective candidates have only until midnight April 7, no one had announced as a candidate for county judge of Randall County by late Wednesday morning.

The position will be vacated at midnight Thursday by Roy Joe Stevens, who submitted his resignation to commissioners' court at its Monday meeting.

Stevens' resignation was accepted almost immediately by the commissioners, who acted on a motion by Clarence Beckman of Precinct 2 and a second by C. Y. Johnson of Precinct 4.

Guessing Game On

One of the biggest guessing games of the year is now underway as political observers attempt to second-guess the commissioners on who will get the appointment to finish out the year as county judge.

Commissioners will meet Friday morning to discuss the issue.

• • •

They heard a procession of nine Amarillo and Canyon men ask for the job after they accepted Judge Stevens' resignation. All but one of the men said he would be a candidate for the job in the forthcoming election.

For Rest of Year

Any appointment by the commissioners' court would be for the remainder of the year only.

Judge Stevens' resignation from the post was made Saturday afternoon after the public hearings by the House General Investigations Committee had accused him of various unethical and immoral acts. He had been county judge since January 1, 1953.

The resignation threw the County Democratic Executive Committee into a quandry because it presented the possibility that voters in the county might not get to select the Democratic nominee at the May 7 primary.

Deadline is April 7

The problem was worked out, however, between David Matthis, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, and the state attorney general's office.

Members of the committee voted Monday night to accept a resolution drawn by Luther Hagard, Jr., secretary of the committee, which set April 7 as the deadline for filing for the Democratic primary on May 7.

Candidates must file with Matthis or County Clerk Tom Lair by April 7 and pay a filing fee of $405 by April 11 to get their names on the ballot.

Men Seeking Job

The men who told the commissioners, with B. E. "Bailie" McCormick of Precinct 1 presiding, that they planned to file for the office include:

Burney Slack of Canyon, a deputy in the county tax assessor-collector's office and former judge of Randall County. Slack served as judge for nearly 11 years, but has been defeated twice by Judge Stevens for the post;

Robert McClendon of Canyon, a service representative for the Texas Employment Commission;

Jack J. Haimes of Amarillo, who operates Buffalo Drug in Canyon;

Former Deputy Applies

Elmer Burnett of Amarillo, who served as a deputy sheriff of Randall County for four years;

Slade Bassett of Amarillo, who is employed by an Amarillo motor company;

Carroll Brown of Amarillo, the only attorney to apply directly to the commissioners for the job;

Jerry Hopson of Amarillo, an attorney who did not appear before the commissioners.

McAvoy Wants Appointment

J. E. McAvoy, Jr., of Amarillo told the commissioners he wanted the interim appointment only. McAvoy is a candidate for county commissioner of precinct 1 in the coming election.

Gene McGlasson, former county attorney now practicing law in Canyon, was mentioned as a likely prospect for the appointment but has turned thumbs down on the job.

Jeanie Downs, center, rodeo queen of West Texas State College, will be presented Thursday night during the first performance in the new T-Anchor Rodeo Arena, east of the college. Flanking Miss Downs are Mike Settle, left, and Erma Bronniman. The rodeo will begin at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. The new arena is located one mile east of Canyon, just off Highway 217. Nine college teams have entered the rodeo.

Industry Needed for Canyon's Future Growth, Gidden Says

"Canyon must have an adaptable and suitable industry within the very near future if the city is to continue its present rate of growth and economic development."

This statement was made this week by Joe Gidden, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's Industrial Promotions Committee.

Gidden issued the statement as he began an attempt to discover whether or not the residents of Canyon would support an industry —financially and otherwise.

Set Up Loan Fund

What the industrial committee and the C of C's board of directors would like to do is set up a Canyon Industrial Loan Fund, which could be used in securing industry for the city.

Several other Panhandle cities have an industrial loan fund and have used it effectively in securing industry. Perryton and McLean are two notable examples of an industrial loan fund in action for the good of the community.

The fund, according to Gidden, would be used to buy land to sell to industry. This way the price of a tract of land for industrial purposes could be guaranteed a firm.

Effective in Perryton

This would prevent the skyrocketing of the price of land after an industry had decided to settle in Canyon.

It has proven a very effective way of luring industry into Perryton, where the chamber of commerce recently bought 34 acres of land to sell to industry.

"If the Canyon Industrial Loan Fund becomes a reality," Gidden said, "we can give an industry a firm price on its building site. This will prevent the price of land doubling or tripling after it is discovered that industry is interested in it."

Would Be Perpetual

As explained by Gidden, the Canyon Industrial Loan Fund would be perpetual. The money would be used to buy land to sell to industry, and as soon as the industry paid for the land the money would go back into the fund.

Anyone subscribing to the fund would be able to withdraw any or all of the money originally put into the fund at any time. No interest will be paid on money put into the fund.

Persons interested in working to help secure an industry for Canyon have been asked by Gidden to contact him at Southwestern Public Service. He also has asked that anyone knowing of an industry seeking to locate in this area to contact him.

Marion Bruce Opposing Dave Matthis in Race

Marion Bruce, Randall County cattleman, is opposing David Matthis in the race for chairmanship of the Randall County Democratic Executive Committee.

The News inadvertantly omitted Bruce's name from a story last week and had incumbent Matthis running unopposed for the office.

Stevens Resigns After Publicity

Roy Joe Stevens resigned as judge of Randall County—effective April 1—after the House General Investigations Committee probed into his public and private life on television.

After the investigation, the committee accused Stevens of official misconduct, unethical practices, and association and relations with crime and the criminal element.

The committee said there "can be little doubt" as to his guilt on all these charges.

Committee Statement

In its statement at the conclusion of the hearing, the committee said:

"The second phase of the hearings was concerned with the office of the County Judge of Randall County, a position of public trust and responsibility, charged with civil and criminal jurisdiction, with chairmanship of the Commissioners' Court, with the Welfare Agency, and of great significance to these hearings — the Juvenile Court.

"The incumbent of that office is Roy Joe Stevens, a publicly elected official with approximately 3 more years to serve out his present term.

3-Pronged Probe

"Investigations of the County Judge's Office were conducted in 3 phases:

(a) Official misconduct
(b) Unethical practices
(c) Association and relations with crime and the criminal element.

"There is and can be little doubt that while holding public office this incumbent has been guilty of all three of these charges. Time after time following both conditional and emphatic denials of charges, this Committee received sworn and corroborated testimony

Voters Face City, School Elections

Two vital elections face Canyon voters within the next week.

To be elected are two members to the school board for Canyon Independent School District and a mayor and two city commissioners.

The school election will be held Saturday with three persons vying for the two vacancies on the board.

Seeking the posts are Mrs. Clay Cooper, the only incumbent in the race, Bob Wear, and Riley Troth. Mrs. R. A. Neblett will vacate her position with the school trustees.

Wear and Troth were drafted by petitions to seek the school board posts.

A. L. Crossland will be election judge for balloting, to be held in the American Legion Hall, Third Avenue at 16th Street.

Only three persons are seeking election to the three city posts being filled Monday. John Taylor, who is now serving as a city commissioner, is seeking election as mayor, and Clarence Eugene Thompson and George H. Ritter are candidates for places 2 and 3 commissioners. All three were drafted by petitions.

Mayor Charles Donnell and Commissioner Lowell Harrison decided not to seek re-election.

City polls will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. in City Hall with Jack Jennings as election judge. Miss Pearl Black and Mrs. Faye Cannedy will serve as clerks.

KERBEL SPEAKS AT SLATON

Joe Kerbel, head football coach at West Texas State College, was principal speaker Monday night at the Slaton Athletic Banquet.

New Coach to Take Over Reins Monday

E. J. "Jeep" Webb probably will take over as head coach at Canyon High School next Monday.

Webb is to be released Friday by the Borger High School, where he has been assistant football coach since 1958.

The 1955 graduate of West Texas State College was hired by the Canyon school board March 15 to replace Bill Davis, who resigned to become head coach and athletic director at Lamesa High School.

Assistant to Mayfield

Webb has served as assistant to Gene Mayfield, head coach at Borger, for the past five years. Three years were spent at Littlefield before moving to Borger in April, 1958.

At the present time Webb will work with James Kauffman and Bill West, both of whom served as assistants under Davis.

Kauffman will follow Davis as soon as school is out this year, but West has not announced what he plans to do.

To Recommend Assistants

The 30-year-old head coach will recommend the assistant coaches he wishes to have after taking over the Canyon athletic program.

Webb is a 1949 graduate of Tulia High School, where he was a football standout. He played guard and tackle his sophomore and junior years, but was switched to fullback his senior year.

He joined the WT Buffaloes in the fall of 1949 as a guard and earned his freshman letter and three varsity letters at that position.

Webb is married and has two children, Tana, four-years-old, and Typ, 15-months-old.

Judging the Judge

If there is anything you would like to know about Roy Joe Stevens, who will be county judge of Randall County until midnight Thursday, just ask anyone you meet on the street.

After the hearings by the House General Investigations Committee in Amarillo last week, everyone you meet has become an authority on the judge—well-versed in his life as judge, practicing attorney, and other phases of his activities.

Whether or not the lanky attorney deserves such a fate has not, as yet, been proved. Proved in a court of law, that is.

A. W. Lair, Randall County's outstanding criminal district attorney, has said that 90 percent of the testimony given against Stevens at the televised hearings would not be admissable in court.

Most of the testimony given against him the last two days of the hearing would probably have been an invasion of privacy if Stevens were not a public official.

Much of the sensational testimony, which damned Stevens as a blackguard and a scoundrel in the minds of many, could not be used as evidence against him in court.

This is not a defense of Judge Stevens. We, like hundreds of others in Randall County, cheered when he handed in his resignation as county judge.

But the fact remains that the man has not been proven guilty of any of the charges in a court of law. Further, Judge Stevens has said, "It certainly isn't the end; it's only the beginning. I am going to press the matter myself. They have charged me with practically every felony there is in the penal code of Texas . . . "

We hope it isn't the end. We hope Judge Stevens gets his day in court; not for his sake especially, but for the sake of the people of Randall and Potter counties.

The crime probers for the Texas House of Representatives left little doubt as to their feelings on the judge. The "Investigations of the County Judge's group's official statement read:

Office were conducted in 3 phases:

(a) Official misconduct
(b) Unethical practices
(c) Association and relations with crime and the criminal element.

"There is and can be little doubt that while holding public office this incumbent (Roy Joe Stevens) has been guilty of all three of these charges. Time after time following both conditional and emphatic denials of charges, this Committee received sworn and corroborated testimony and evidence supporting each charge.

"It is not the purpose of this Committee to editorialize on these lurid, sordid and sometimes incredible disclosures. The evidence, taken in public session has been previously investigated. Most of the witnesses have previously taken the lie detector test, or readily agreed so to do.

"The evidence is now a matter of public record—it speaks with clarity and potency."

The committee report went on to say that the evils brought out in the investigation "is a job to be done by the people of Potter and Randall Counties, through an enlightened and active electorate and Bar Association and a Grand Jury dedicated to this end."

Thus far, nobody has even been indicted by a grand jury for any of the "evils" revealed, much less convicted.

So remember, this is still America—where a person is presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

We Need Better Coffee

There is a campaign on right now, promoted by the South American coffee producing countries, to put more coffee in the brew and thus consume more of the bean.

The advertising campaign is pretty tightly wound, using the theme of using a full measuring cup of coffee for every cup of finished fluid.

This resulting brew is supposed to put spring in your step, increase your efficiency, and give you more pleasure per sip.

Probably so.

But the main thing wrong with coffee nowadays is not that people don't put enough grounds in the pot—they merely don't know how to make it.

You can make the rounds of Perryton coffee dispersing stations and not come up with any two cups of coffee alike. There are cups poured from greasy urns, with enough scum remaining on top of your cup to be spread with a spoon.

We suspect that some thrifty cafe owners teach their waitresses to pour, and pour more hot water through exhausted grounds until by the time you get your cup, you have to dose it liberally with sugar in order to kill the taste.

We view with distrust the coffee that comes out of plain, unmarked paper bags and is dumped into the coffee pots. This indicates to us that the proprietor is using a cut rate raw material and the finished product usually shows it.

Although women usually drink more coffee than men, they make it weaker and probably this coffee propaganda is directed at them.

The best coffee is that made in a tin bucket filled with fresh spring water and into which is tossed a sugar sack filled with good ground coffee. When it boils long enough to float the sack, it is ready to be drunk. This is best when sipped after a day's exercise in the woods, while the sipper is seated around a campfire.

Failing that, we say that coffee should be prepared in a clean pot, percolated neither too long nor too short, and it should be served hot.

This final characteristic is adhered to by every cafe with which we have coffee drinking acquaintance. And most of the time that's about all you can say for it, too.

But who cares? After all, the hallowed coffee break is not taken for the purpose of enjoying the coffee, but to rest on company time. Any kind of coffee will do for that. (Ochiltree County Herald)

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings

Ben Ezzell in the Canadian Record: Easter . . . a tiny rural community in Castro County . . . over on the west side of the Panhandle . . . has just acquired a new post office; or, to be more exact, a postal sub-station under supervision of the Hereford Post Office. The important thing is that the postmark will read "Easter, Texas" and it aims to cash in on the same post-mark craze which has made "Santa Claus, Indiana" a big name in stamp-cancelling circles.

This will be the only "Easter" in the United States.

And Postmaster Herman Paetzold is looking forward to a big seasonal business. "Although we opened up just a day before St. Patrick's Day," he told a Hereford reporter with a hint of a grin, "we feel that the substation is going to be a good thing for Easter!"

But if you're thinking that the creation of "Easter" as a new official postmark is just a publicity gimmick by the Post Office Department, think again. This substation is really in business . . . from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays . . . which is a darned sight more service than most post office patrons are getting. It makes our 9-to-5:30 and half-a-day-Saturday service look a little more sparse than usual!

Maybe it's just that the best things come in the smallest packages. Sometimes that seems to be the way with post offices. The bigger they are, the lousier the mail service gets.

We've had steady complaints, for example, from a couple of Record subscribers in Dallas about the frequent non-delivery of their favorite home-town newspaper. Our problem is what to do about it . . . and it isn't easy. We have several subscribers in Dallas, and all of these papers are mailed each Thursday afternoon in a single bundle addressed to the Dallas post office. Since some of them are being delivered in Dallas, we know that all of them must be getting there. We suspect that some Dallas mail carrier may be getting tired of his week-end load and dumping part of it in the nearest culvert occasionally . . . but we can't go to Dallas every week-end and trail these weary public servants, so all we can do is ask the Dallas Postmaster to look into it. Which is about as far as we ever get.

Same thing happens in Amarillo . . . where our newspapers are also delivered in a special "tie." When our papers are undeliverable for any reason . . . because of incorrect or illegible addresses, etc. . . . the postal department returns them to us with a 5-cent "postage-due" notice and we have to pay up. But we've never had papers returned from these Amarillo and Dallas addresses, so apparently something else is happening to them.

Charles E. Cullin in the McLean News: Amarillo's contest to see who can guess the population has hit a snag. The Chamber of Commerce is disheartened and people are confused as to how many to estimate.

The big problem is that when Mrs. Davis finishes her speech and the state intelligence men get through hauling off the guilty it looks like there may not be anyone left to qualify as a bonafide resident.

Was Rebel Leader Once Playmate Of House at School in Arizona?

By BOYCE HOUSE

In the winter of 1908-09, I lived in Douglas, Arizona, and was in the seventh grade. I can remember a sandstorm with a wind so strong that, thin as I was, I had to walk across the street at an angle and with eyes almost closed.

My father rented a store building and installed two boxball alleys — a pastime similar to bowling but not as strenuous. Most of the time (except during school hours) I ran the place as my father was ill.

He sub-leased part of the space to a big Swede named Johnson who put in a shooting gallery. While the owner was out at lunch, I ran the shooting gallery, too. If I was going to stretch the truth, it would be set down here that I became a dead-shot but actually I didn't (although I did acquire skill in playing boxball). At cleaning the guns, reloading them and at whitewashing the targets, I became quite adept — and there was one (seemingly) difficult feat that I could perform and that was hitting a swinging target.

The pendulum, upon completing a swing, would pause before starting to swing back and the secret was to aim at the spot at the end of the swing and to be ready to fire the single instant the pendulum halted.

Quite a few Latin Americans attended school and my chum was one of these. His name was Joe Aguirre. He had sparkling eyes and flashing white teeth and he was always smiling. He was very quick in all his movements in our contests on the campus. I recall that one day I playfully tapped him and then ran. Fleet as a deer, he raced in pursuit and, just as he overhauled me, out went a foot, tripping me and the ground rose up and I saw a shower of stars.

My father died the next spring; we moved away and I have never been back to Douglas. I used often to think of my former playmate and wonder whatever happened to him.

Years went by — as years do — and one day I read a brief news item from Mexico saying that a revolutionary leader had been killed in battle. He was Colonel Jose Aguirre. I never have known whether he was my former playmate.

Soon our doorbell will ring, and when we answer we'll find some ordinary citizen, even as ourselves, armed with credentials and questions. The manner we reserve for usual doorbell ringers — the scissor grinder, the brush salesman, and the old man with pencils and greeting cards — won't serve here. What we honestly feel is none of this fellow's business, in reality is.

To him we must give bald facts: name, age, occupation, goodness knows what else. Actually he is our chance to be counted in history. So that next year, and five years from now, and a decade away, our vital statistics can be dissected into a dozen or so parts, and run through a computer to become several tiny fractions in several one percents.

Being quizzed about one's personal life is grim enough. But what about the census taker? It's he who has to walk weary blocks, ask questions he'd rather not, accept courtesy or rudeness as it is doled out. True, he gets paid $13 a day, and if he has lots of natural curiosity about people, he'll have ample opportunity to satisfy it. But from where we sit, this looks like money hard-earned.

We wonder at the St. Louis clerk who applied for a job as census taker —and was rejected. In two year's time, from 1956 to 1958, he had won $264,000 on quiz shows by answering questions. Why couldn't he ask a few? Maybe a fellow who runs through that sum that fast should have been asking instead of answering all along. However, he's not one to trust with the chance to be counted in history, is he?

WHITE LIES

A little truth goes a long ways, but some people insist on stretching it still further.

Planning Needed For Wise Menus

COLLEGE STATION—A bit of planning ahead makes a big difference in meal preparation just as it does in other efforts.

And a wise menu planner knows the food items that are in abundant supply and available for careful selection and economy. That's one reason the U. S. Department of Agriculture prepares a monthly list of plentiful foods, say food specialists of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station.

What will be plentiful in April?

Cranberry products head the list. Supplies of colorful cranberry sauce and juice are large enough to encourage wide use of this food all month, according to figures of USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

That's a happy selection because cranberries go so well with all of the plentiful meats—pork, including ham for Easter; broilers and fryers and shrimp. Other high protein plentiful foods are eggs, milk and dairy products, and peanuts and peanut butter.

Canned blackberries, especially those from Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma, also are plentiful in the Southwest. Other fruits in good supply include canned freestone peaches, raisins and fresh dates.

Carrots, rice, almonds, filberts, and lard complete the April list for Texas.

These are the foods that pave the way for hearty springtime eating in the weeks ahead. The supply of each is expected to exceed normal demand.

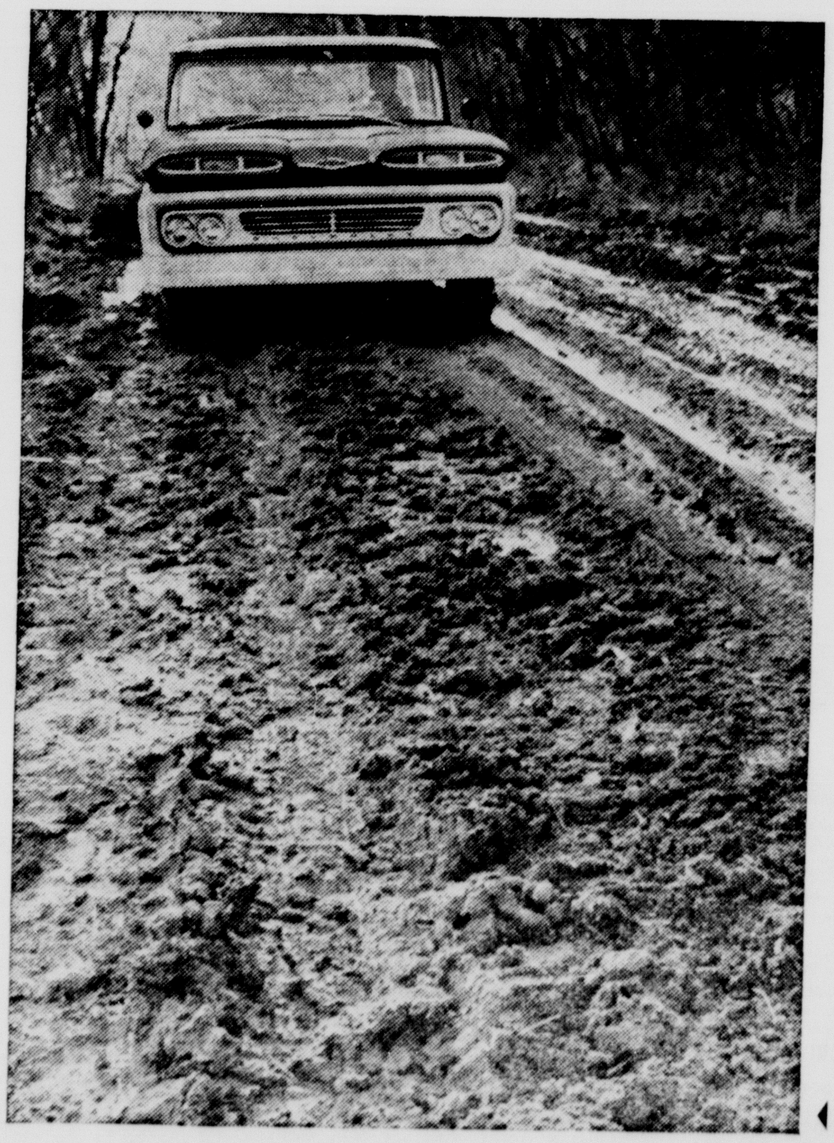
CHEVROLET



"Worst roads in the world, but this new Chevy takes all the roughness out!"

Out near Wathena, Kansas, farmer Milt Roundy tends 800 acres with only one helper—his 1960 Chevrolet pickup. The truck almost never runs on Kansas's fine state highways—instead it averages about 2,500 miles a month on unimproved back-country trails or on hauls into the fields, off the road. "In my book, these are the worst roads in the world," Mr. Roundy says, "but this new Chevy takes all the roughness out. It doesn't fishtail or whip around like other trucks — I can steer it with one finger!"

They're speaking right up, these owners of '60 Chevrolets. Everywhere you go, they're giving out glowing reports on a revolutionary new truck ride that leads to a bigger day's work at less expense; praising truck power that knows the most about saving money.

It's Chevy's total newness they're talking about. And you'll be talking, too, once you turn a new Chevrolet loose on your money runs. Your dealer can get you started, right away!

It takes Chevy's new Torsion-Spring Ride to smooth out a road like this!

Drives for Funds Are Not Related

Funds sought by the Cancer Cytology Foundation by mail should not be confused with the April $2,000 American Cancer Society drive, according to local ACS spokesmen.

Mrs. Scott Downing, Randall County unit chairman, said, "The American Cancer Society is in no way connected with the Cytology Foundation which is conducting a mail campaign from New York.

"Their campaign is neither sponsored nor sanctioned by the 47-year-old ACS which is conducting its own cytology program," she said.

The Texas Society of Pathologists, she added, has indicated that there is no need for special cytology screening centers since medical facilities throughout the state to provide these services are adequate.

Mrs. Downing said that the official 1960 American Cancer Society Educational Fund Drive will be conducted during April and the crusade organization is rapidly nearing completion with many citizens already volunteering their services.

62 Buffs Open Spring Training

Sixty-two football players greeted West Texas State's new football staff Monday when the Buffs opened spring drills. According to NCAA standards, the squad is allowed 20 workouts in a 35-day period.

Taking his first look at the Buffaloes in football togs is Joe Kerbel, new head coach who gave up an assistant's role at Texas Tech to attempt the West Texas rebuilding job. New Buff assistants are Joe Moss, Jack Harris, and Billy Willingham.

"Fundamentals will be the theme of our entire spring training schedule," said Coach Kerbel, "and the boys we find who can do those best will represent us on the football field."

Because of expected interest among football fans in the area, the end-of-the-week scrimmages will be open to the public. They are scheduled at 2 p.m. each Saturday at the new 20,000-seat stadium, except on Easter weekend when the game will be moved up to Friday.

The final full-scale game, winding up spring drills, has been set for either Friday, April 22, or Saturday, the 23rd, at Buffalo Stadium.

Among the 62 hopefuls scheduled to report Monday are 16 lettermen who are returning from the 1959 squad that won one and lost nine.

Reece Appointed Census Official

Bailey L. Reece, who resides at 506 14th Street, has been appointed district technical officer of the 1960 Decennial Census of Population and Housing for the Panhandle, which gets underway Friday.

Reece, a crew leader in the recent agricultural census, is supervisor of the census crew leaders, enumerators, and other personnel in 28 Panhandle counties. His office is in Amarillo.

Reece stated that an accurate census is important for several reasons:

1. Representation in Congress;

2. Large sums of money are distributed by the federal government to the states, and from the states to other governmental units, with the number of people as the major element in the distribution formula;

3. The rights and duties of municipalities are frequently dependent on the size of their population. The number of certain officials, their scales, the number of licenses for partciular types of business, the applicability of certain laws, and even the terms on which loans can be negotiated and bonds sold are often dependent on the number of people.

The son of Mrs. Treva Reece of Canyon, Reece is married and has three children.

WT Personality Pageant to Draw Students from 20 Area Schools

Approximately 20 area high schools and junior colleges are expected to send representatives to the annual Plains Personality Pageant Friday and Saturday at West Texas State College, when WT's own King and Queen of Personality are presented.

Two days of activities have been planned by the Student Senate, student government association of WT.

On Friday, school representatives who arrive early, will register at 6:30 p.m. in the Student Union Building. Registration will again be held Saturday at noon. A talent show and informal dance is scheduled Friday night at 8, honoring visitors.

Saturday Events Told

Events Saturday will begin at 2 p.m., when a one-act play will be presented during the Interscholastic League district contest for District 3-AAAA, in the Branding Iron Theatre.

Buffalo Gals, a campus service organization, will honor visitors at 3 p.m. at a tea. Rehearsal for presentation of WT and visiting personalities will be held at 4:30, and an informal dinner is scheduled at 5:30 p.m.

Personality Dance

With the Bobby Burns orchestra playing, the formal Personality dance will start at 8 p.m. Saturday in the cafeteria. Theme of decorations is oriental, with decorations being made by the Art Club, Buffalo Masquers, and the senate. Members of social sororities and fraternities will assist the senate in decorating.

Master of ceremonies for presentation of visiting high school personalities and WT's King and Queen will be Dr. Jack Walker, professor of speech. Entertainment for visitors and WT students who do not dance has been planned in the Student Union Building.

WT Candidates

Candidates for WT Personality Queen are Judy Neslage of Pampa, Eleanor Maddox of Claude, Faye Jabin of Vernon, Bette Cave of Amarillo, and Janis Dunnam of Lefors.

King candidates are Winfred Cates of Shamrock, Pat Stephens of Post, Wayne Smith of Pampa, Earl Gillham of Claude, and Steve Slagle of Hereford.

The WT student body has already elected the winners, but results of the campus-wide balloting will not be revealed until the presentation Saturday night.

High Schools Coming

High schools registered early for the event include Amarillo, Borger, Canyon, Hartley, Lefors, Lockney, Plainview, Phillips, Silverton, Pampa, Spearman, Hale Center, Groom, Dalhart, and Allison. Frank Phillips Junior College has also accepted an invitation.

Why I'm Glad I'm an American

By SALLY SWATZELL

I'm glad I'm an American because of the many freedoms we have to enjoy. There are numerous freedoms, but in my opinion the most outstanding ones are the freedoms of religion, speech, press, and assembly.

The democratic form of government is another reason I'm glad I'm an American. This type of government is run by the people, or representatives elected by the people to decide what is best for our country and now there is no complete dictatorship.

The educational opportunities offered in America are outstanding. Years ago children had to buy their own books and in this way they didn't have a very good education. Today, the state pays for the books and now everyone has an equal chance to learn. Tuition is low enough in college that everyone can go if they have good enough grades and if they desire to do so. These reasons, and many more, tell why I'm glad I'm an American.

JWBC Styles Bring in Spring

Spring was ushered in March 21 when the Junior Woman's Book Club held its spring style show in the all-purpose room of the Canyon Elementary School.

Fashions for morning, sports, afternoon, and after-5 wear were supplied by McDonald's Shop, with a narration by Debra Devenport and musical background by Mrs. Glenn Dowlen.

Models entered under a grape-laden arch into a garden scene resplendent with flowering peach trees and white patio furniture.

Between acts of the style show, there was a musical program featuring a trio composed of Kay Lynn Jarnagin, Judy Roberts, and Marian Henson, accompanied by Karen Brewster; a comedy skit by John Brantley and Rob Barnard; a piano solo by Lynne Larson; a vocal solo by Thelma Fulton; and a clown, portrayed by Janis Dunnam.

Refreshments were served to approximately 300 guests before the show by the foods committee with Maxine Sherrod as chairman, and Kate Gamble and Joyce Wooten.

The committee in charge of decorations were Beth Oliver, chairman, Billie Erwin, and Ida Hager. The general planning committee was Betty Ross Howard, chairman, Joyce Wooten, Barbara Meek, and Shirley White.

Proceeds went to the proposed community center project.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Supporters of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District and persons interestd in commemorative stamps will be able to purchase a four-cent water conservation postage stamp locally starting April 19, J. W. Spencer said this week.

Although the Post Office Department is printing 120 million copies of the three-color water conservation stamp, the edition may not last long, Spencer predicted.

The stamp is being issued at Washington, D. C., on April 18 as a tribute to conservation farmers and ranchers and their local soil conservation districts and watershed projects.

"I'm sure that most everyone in Randall-Potter SCD will want to buy these colorful and historical stamps when they go on sale here," Spencer said.

Those who are interested in a "first-day cover," a souvenir envelope, can mail addressed envelopes plus a money order or certified check for the number of stamps required to the postmaster at Washington, D. C., who will place the water conservation stamp on the envelopes, cancel with a special cancellation mark used only on that day and at that place, and mail as addressed anywhere in the country, Spencer pointed out.

Fishing Licenses Required in Texas

AUSTIN—A few days of sunshine has doubled the number of fishermen on the lakes and streams of Texas, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

"Wardens checking these fishermen find that most of them have their licenses," the director said. "A few, however, have put off buying their fishing licenses and it is necessary to charge them with violation."

Fishing licenses are required of all persons, except those under 16 or over 65 years, fishing with rod and reel in any Texas waters.

Non-residents pay the same for their licenses as Texans—$2.15—which permits fishing in either fresh or salt water.

"Visitors to Texas are appreciative of this license," the director said. "Most states charge a much higher price for non-resident fishing privileges. As a result of our minimum priced license, we get many fishing visitors in the state."

Fishing licenses can be bought from most sporting goods stores, the county clerks, and game and fish commission offices in the major Texas cities.

Washington Report

Texas Growth

By Representative Walter Rogers
18th Congressional District

It was heartening to learn one probability which will emerge from the 1960 census figures. According to estimates released last week by the Texas Municipal League, many small towns in the Panhandle and in the state will hold their own or register a steady growth.

It is good news that the typical Texas city is a small town — populationwise — rather than a metropolis. The report indicates that, although over 50 percent of the state's population resides in metropolitan centers, Texas small towns have shown a generally consistently healthy growth during the 1950's, and that over 86 percent of the incorporated municipalities have under 10,000 population.

Certainly no one, least of all me, would be averse to the fact of the growth of any unit in our great state, but it has also been my contention the backbone of our democracy, our economy, and our society is the community life and progress evidenced by our small towns and rural areas.

Farm Families Declining

One aspect which will almost certainly be revealed when the complete census figures are tabulated is not a particularly happy one. I speak of the declining family farm population, which decline I have opposed at every opportunity, believing it will result in sociological and economic problems which we have not even yet foreseen. It would certainly be my hope that the observation of the league will be correct, to-wit:

"Growth begets growth. As metropolitan Texas grows during the 1960's, small town Texas will benefit with the re-awakening of local agriculture and resources supply activity, development of small manufacturing operations, and other supporting operations necessary to sustain the metropolitan populace."

Among those municipalities in the Panhandle with an estimated 1959 population under 10,000, showing a substantial growth in the 1950's are Hereford, Perryton, Dalhart, Canyon, Tulia, Wellington, Dimmitt, Clarendon, Stinnett, Canadian, Friona, Panhandle, McLean, Stratford, Bovina, and Spearman.

The Lost Battalion

It was my great honor and privilege last week to participate in dedication ceremonies of the new Blucher S. Tharp Reserve Training Center at Amarillo. The center was named for Colonel Tharp, the brave and heroic commander of the equally brave and heroic men of the famous Lost Battalion in World War II. The story of the Lost Battalion is one that should be known to every American.

Those of you who have not read it, please do. It will bring to your minds that in our day and time the immortal words of Thomas Paine in 1776 are as appropriate now as they were then. Here are those words:

"These are the times that try men's souls. The summer soldier and the sunshine patriot will, in this crisis, shrink from the service of his country; but he that stands it now, deserves the love and thanks of man and woman. Tyranny, like hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, that the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph. What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly; 'tis dearness only that gives everything its value. Heaven knows how to put a proper price upon its goods; and it would be strange indeed, if so celestial an article as Freedom should not be highly rated."

We, in the Panhandle, indeed Americans everywhere, are proud and humbly grateful for the magnificent example and sacrifice of the Lost Battalion, the Second Battery, 131st Field Artillery of the Lost Battalion, the Second the Texas National Guard.

Big Nose Count To Start Friday

The 1960 Census of Population and Housing, the nation's 18th decennial nose count, gets underway here Friday morning with census takers starting their rounds which will take them to every dwelling unit in town.

Crew Leader J. B. "Bud" Hickman pointed out that residents can speed up the big count by having their Advance Report Forms filled out and ready for the census takers —if those forms have been received.

Canyon was short-changed on the forms and a number of families have not received theirs yet. However, Hickman said more of them have been ordered and will be distributed as soon as they arrive, which should be soon.

The Advance Report Form contains the seven population and six housing questions which are asked of all persons. It gives the family a chance to assemble information about each member of the family in advance of the census taker's visit.

Hickman emphasized that all information about individuals and their homes furnished to the Census Bureau is held in absolute confidence under federal law. It is used only to provide summary figures such as totals, averages, and percentages.

The information about individuals cannot be furnished to anyone other than sworn census employees and thus cannot be used for investigation, taxation, or regulation, Hickman said.

and evidence supporting each charge.

Lie Tests Taken

"It is not the purpose of this Committee to editorialize on these lurid, sordid and sometimes incredible disclosures. The evidence, taken in public session has been previously investigated. Most of the witnesses have previously taken the lie detector test, or readily agreed so to do.

"The evidence is now a matter of public record—it speaks with clarity and potency."

The committee recommended that the situation be corrected "by the people of Potter and Randall Counties, through an enlightened and active electorate and Bar Association and a Grand Jury dedicated to this end."

Not Admitting Guilt

Judge Stevens said in his resignation that it was not to be construed as any admission "of guilt of any of the allegations, charges, and insinuations that had been made against me."

He said he was resigning because he felt it was in the best interests of the citizens of the county.

The resignation read:

"I herewith tender my resignation as county judge of Randall County, Texas, effective April 1, 1960. Due to the unfavorable publicity directed at me I believe my effectiveness as county judge has been destroyed.

Expresses Appreciation

"This resignation is not to be construed as an admission of guilt of any of the allegations, charges, and insinuations that have been made against me. I feel, however, it is of the best interests of the citizens of this county that under present conditions I withdraw from office.

"I want to take this opportunity to express my appreciation for the cooperation and support that the commissioners court of Randall County has always given me and I again thank the people of Randall County for honoring me by electing me on three different occasions to public office."

First performance of Patrick Hamilton's suspense thriller, "Rope," was presented Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. in the little Branding Iron Theatre at West Texas State College.

A student-directed show, the three-act drama will be repeated Wednesday and Thursday nights.

William A. Moore and Robert L. Antrim, director and technical director of the BIT, are supervising production, but Gary Wyatt of Dimmitt and Erin Wertenberger of Hereford, are director and designer for the intimate theatre production.

Admission is 75 cents, and reservations may be made through the WT speech department.

Six freshmen are featured in the cast, with Wyatt portraying Wyndham Brandon and Wertenberger playing Charles Granillo. Other first-year students having roles are Jo Beecher of Dimmitt as Lelia Arden, Barsha Fowler of Dalhart as Mrs. Debenham, Morris Westberry of Dimmitt as Rupert Caddell, and John Gililland of Hereford as Sabot.

Scott Glenn, a senior from Borger, plays Sir Johnstone Kentley, and Geoffrey Brownlee of Amarillo, formerly of London, England, appears as Kenneth Raglan. Brownlee also has been assisting the cast with British accents.

Story takes place in a student flat in London, and deals with a thrill-killing climaxed by the killers giving a party "over the corpse." An amateur sleuth discovers the crime, and justice is done.

This is an architect's drawing of the building which was proposed as the Canyon Community Center by Dr. Dudley Moore, Jr., as he talked to the various civic and social organizations of the city earlier this year. The building, as explained by Dr. Moore, would cost a minimum of $50,000 to construct. It encloses the swimming pool at Conner Park and provides ample room for indoor activities. This plan was drawn by an architect for Panhandle Steel Buildings in Amarillo, and is patterned after the youth center at Plainview.

Clubs May Consider YMCA In Community Center Plans

Club representatives to the Community Center Planning Council are now seeking opinions from civic club members on the most recent idea presented the council.

Officers of the planning council emphasize that it is an idea only.

That idea is to organize a Young Men's Christian Association in Canyon, hire a director trained by the YMCA, and forego plans to construct a community center.

Explained by YMCA Man

The plan was explained to the council by Dan C. Pitt, Jr., a YMCA representative.

Community center proponents had been trying to garner support for a building, which was to have been built at the site of the city swimming pool.

Dr. Dudley Moore, Jr., a member of the planning council, spoke to nearly 30 civic groups in Canyon and explained the building and the building's function to the club members.

Wait for Building

The YMCA does not advocate construction of a center the first year, Pitt explained. The YMCA feels that "a board of directors, a constructive program of activities, an administration under an able, well-trained YMCA secretary comes first."

In his talk here, Pitt gave the answers to some questions usually asked of the YMCA. Among the questions were:

1. What is the YMCA? The YMCA is a world-wide movement dedicated to the enrichment of life through the development of Christian character and a Christian society.

Both Sexes Belong

2. Who can belong to the Canyon and vicinity YMCA if one is organized? Men, women, boys, and girls find a program in the YMCA that is interesting and beneficial.

3. Is the YMCA an interfaith movement? In the U. S., 70 percent of the YMCA membership are Protestants, 24 percent are Roman Catholic, five percent are Jewish, and one percent belong to other or no church.

4. How are YMCA's financed? The members of each city are responsible for financing their own association.

Owned by Directors

5. Who owns the YMCA in a given city? The members of the association through their elected board of directors hold all property titles, raise and spend all funds.

6. How many women or girls belong to the YMCA? Over 28 percent of the YMCA members are girls and women.

7. Who will select the directors when the organization is completed? Each charter member over 18 years of age will have a vote in the election of the permanent board.

Rewards of Membership

8. What do I get if I become a charter member of the Canyon YMCA? If you become a charter member you will get five returns: (a) The satisfaction of helping to found a movement that will enrich the lives of thousands for years to come; (b) A vote in the management of the affairs of the Canyon association; (c) You will help finance the first year's operation; (d) Your membership card will be honored in any YMCA in America for full face value; and (e) You will have the privilege of participating in the program activities of the Canyon YMCA.

9. What will the first year's program be? A program committee, composed of men and women of this community, will conduct a survey among some 1,000 Canyon residents to see what they would like included. It is not the purpose of the Y to duplicate programs, and it will work with churches, schools, and established organizations whenever it can be of service.

First Things First

10. What about a modern building? It is not the policy of the YMCA to recommend a building the first year. It is our feeling that "this will take time." A board of directors, a constructive program of activities, an administration under an able, well-trained YMCA secretary come first. In the meantime, the association will make use of existing facilities.

11. How much will the first year's budget be? The first year's operating budget will be $12,000.

12. What will the budget be used for? The major expenditures for the year will be the program features, the office and supplies, and the employment of a full-time professional YMCA secretary.

13. How much of the funds raised by the Y in Canyon will go out of the community? Three percent of the net income of operating budget goes to the area and national YMCA for support. For this amount, the Canyon YMCA receives expert advice from the Y staff.

14. How about cooperation with church and schools of Canyon? The YMCA has always endeavored to give full cooperation through its program to churches and schools.

Officials of the Community Center Planning Council invites the comments of everyone on the proposal. Anyone who has anything to say for or against the idea should tell their club representative or contact a member of the council.

Officers of the council are Mike Morris, president; Riley Troth, vice president; Jean Loudder, secretary; and Mrs. Clyde Warwick, treasurer.

Fairview Breezes

By MRS. J. W. WESLEY

We received 1.40 inches of moisture Wednesday evening and Thursday.

Brother Charles Pierce was with us Sunday morning and evening.

John Bargos and his fiance of Abilene visited Saturday evening in the H. H. Shipman home enroute from Kansas where they purchased their license to be married next Sunday.

H. H. Shipman returned from Missouri Monday evening. He reports that he feels much better.

Those enjoying lunch in the G. E. Wesley home Sunday were John Bargos and his fiance. John is stationed with the Air Force at Abilene.

The "42" tournament closed Saturday evening with Madge Sutton and Lizzie Wesley as hostesses. Three tables were in progress throughout the evening. Those winning high for the evening were Annie Wesley and Charles Sutton. Low was awarded to C. P. Rogers and Madge Sutton, and C. P. Rogers won the traveling prize.

Grand prize for eight weeks' play went to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wesley. Some expressed regret as the session came to a close as it had been enjoyed very much.

Mrs. Fannie Stevens and son, Clifford, visited a short time in the J. W. Wesley home Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wesley went to Plainview Sunday where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Gus Wesley and their daughter-in-law and two grandchildren. The Wesleys were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Walker for lunch. Mrs. Walker will be remembered as Imogene Langston, a granddaughter of R. L. "Bob" Wesley.

C. P. Rogers, Clifford Stevens, and J. W. Wesley were working on a windmill Monday.

It doesn't pay to lay down flat and shoot a skunk under a hen nest.

Charles Sutton will testify to that. He thought he was going to have to be buried to get rid of the odor.

We are saddened to learn of the death of George Gillham, a long-time resident of Wayside. Our sympathies are for Ethel May, the children, and other relatives of the family.

Canyon Baptists To Host Monthly Rally of Youths

Jack Pierce, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Dalhart, will be featured speaker for the monthly youth rally of the Amarillo Baptist Association.

The rally is slated Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church here.

Special music will be provided by the Fairview Baptist Church, the Amarillo Youth Choir, and a girls' trio from Pierce Street Baptist Church in Amarillo. Ladson Worley will lead the Amarillo Youth Choir.

All intermediates and young people in the area have been urged to attend the rally, which will be followed by a fellowship period.

Kimbrough Tells 1960 Grid Slate

Two schools that did not appear on last year's schedule—Texas Tech and University of Wichita—will open and close West Texas State's 1960 football slate, according to athletic director Frank Kimbrough.

The Buffs will kick off the 10-game schedule with Texas Tech at Lubbock September 17, and wind it up on Thanksgiving Day against the Missouri Valley Conference eleven in Wichita.

Sandwiched between those two games will be five Border Conference outings, a game with North Texas State of the Missouri Valley, and tilts with strong independents Mississippi Southern and Trinity.

Five home games in 20,000-seat Buffalo Stadium are slated with Arizona State University, defending conference champions; Texas Western, North Texas, Trinity, and New Mexico State, defending Sun Bowl champs.

Texas Tech and Wichita replace Virginia Tech and Drake from the 1959 card.

The schedule:

Sept. 17—Texas Tech, Lubbock
24—Arizona State University, Canyon*
Oct. 1—Mississippi Southern, Hattiesburg
8—Texas Western, Canyon*
15—North Texas State, Canyon
22—Hardin-Simmons, Abilene*
29—University of Arizona, Tucson*
Nov. 5—Trinity, Canyon
12—New Mexico State, Canyon*
24—Wichita, Wichita, Kan.

*Border Conference games

All-State Back Will Join Buffs

Don Vickers, an all-state first team halfback from Floydada, has told West Texas State Coach Joe Kerbel he will enroll at West Texas State this fall.

A 6-1, 190-pound back who has been clocked in 10.2 in the 100, Vickers lettered four years in football for Coach Preston Watson. He gained all-district and all-regional honors the past two seasons.

A three-year letterman in both basketball and track, he wants to major in physical education at West Texas to prepare for a coaching career. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Vickers.

"I have visited a number of colleges," he said, "and I was most impressed with West Texas State. The students are friendly, and after having a conference with a faculty advisor I feel that the professors at WT will take a special interest in their students."

"I also feel I'd be happier at West Texas because it would enable me to know my classmates and instructors better. I'm looking forward to playing for the Buffaloes."
